It was founded in 1824 as a garrison in which the troops of the Spanish Army were trained. In the subsequent years, the church of the same name, situated next to the fort, was used as a granary and, in 1867, as a repository of the archival material. The first structure to host the museum was the Moncada Barracks, where a hall was inaugurated in 1958 by the Commander of the Revolution. External links El Castillo Museum Cuban Travels Category:M
