She is best known for her roles in Coming Out (2005) and What Happened to Glory (2006), and for her lead role in the 2014 supernatural romance horror film The Witch. Career Yoon So Yeon started her career at the age of 24 when she appeared in the 1998 television series Who's Your Daddy?. She has since starred in over 30 television dramas and films, including her leading roles in The Moon Embracing the Sun (2002) and Coming Out (2005). In the latter, she received critical acclaim for her performance as a rebellious high school girl. Her performance was compared to that of Kim Rae-won, a leading actor at the time. In 2006, she played a leading role in the critically acclaimed drama What Happened to Glory, for which she earned critical acclaim as well. Yoon was also praised for her role as an entertainer in the 2007 film A Moment to Remember. Yoon's first role in a film that went on to become a major box office hit was in the 2008 thriller White Nights, for which she received a Best Actress nomination at the 5th Korean Association of Film Critics Awards. She subsequently played a leading role in 2011 drama Beast, and supporting role in the 2012 action film The Grand Heist. Yoon appeared in the fantasy romance drama Story of a Girl (2012) and horror romance film The Perfect Couple (2014). In the latter, she starred opposite Kim Rae-won. Her performance earned her a Best New Actress nomination at the 38th Baeksang Arts Awards. Yoon next took on a series regular role in the historical drama My Love from the Star (2016). That same year, she portrayed Kim Soo-hyun's role as Lady Kim in the television series Battle Council: Who Is the Absolute Queen. Yoon played a lead role in horror romance film Goddess and the Monster (2017), which marked 2d92ce491b
